FASTdocs

Cloud-Based Content Management Solution Built for Financial Institutions Turns Data into Actionable Intelligence

FASTdocs, a flexible, scalable and fully automated enterprise content management (ECM) and enterprise information management (EIM) solution, was built from best practices, specifically for the financial services market. By enabling banks and credit unions of all sizes and footprints to take control of their enterprise data, FASTdocs turns information into actionable business intelligence that yields insights into market trends and drives smarter programs.

- Eliminate manual steps with automated workflows

- Digitize all types of documents, regardless of format, source or file type

- Holistic view of all associated accountholder information, with simple search and retrieval

- Support audit and compliance requirements

- Integrates with Alogent's digital ecosystem

- 24/7 accountholder accessibility through a self-service portal

SIMPLIFY AND STREAMLINE

Streamline business processes with customizable, automated workflows. Gain the flexibility to maximize efficiencies, as well as the ability to automatically digitize documents, regardless of the format, source or file-type. By centralizing all critical information in digital format, FASTdocs mitigates compliance risks, speeds search and retrieval, and eliminates the need for costly paper document creation, management, and archiving.

FLEXIBILITY THAT TRANSLATES INTO EFFICIENCY & CONVENIENCE

FASTdocs removes roadblocks to growth with versatile deployment options, including on-premise, and full-service hosting options in the Alogent Cloud. Gain effortless scalability that removes the need for in-house hardware and specialized IT staff, leaving the heavy lifting to us.

An easy-to-learn browser based front-end further reduces hardware overhead, synchronizes software updates at the enterprise level, and ensures consistency across user workstations to deliver maximum value.

FASTdocs also provides employees with a full-scope view at both the individual, account and collateral levels that increases speed and accuracy of service, while a self-service web portal empowers customers and members to do business when and where they prefer.

Alogent